NEWS OFFICE*TWO FIRES ON PRAIRIESONE SOUTH OF THE TRACE THE OTHER FOURTEEN MILES NORTH OF HERE.

A prairie fire was started on Thursday at about noon, south of the track and opposite the P. R. station. It threatened to spread westward, so it was fair call for volunteers to aid in putting it out but nearly everyone appealed to wait until 2 or 3 in the morning as long as it did not cover 2 or 3 lots. It burned along the track, showing a lamentable lack of prairie soil, which is dry and brittle & burns a mass and will, with the assistance of Mr. Playfair, succeed in ridding the country of the burning over an area of about two acres.

On Thursday many of those who had been watching the smoke reported that a prairie fire, that had already burned over a large acreage, was seen near the junction of the trail toward toward this place. The shower of Saturday morning extinguished it.

DR. DAWSON MADE TEACHER OF MATHEMATICS AT CALGARY HIGH SCHOOL.

Morton V. F. Dawson, who has been principal of the Bassano public school since it was founded, has been appointed teacher of mathematics at Calgary in the high school there. Dr. Dawson made a complete success of the local school, gaining the confidence of true parents and winning the affection and regard of his pupils.

Dr. Dawson's special work, however, is teaching mathematics and experimental science (physics and chemistry). He is well known to students as he holds the seven-year certificate of the department of technical instruction and agriculture, Dublin, Ireland, and also the gold medal and medals for taking first place in both scientific and mathematical subjects in competition with students in technical schools in Ireland. He goes to fill the mastership of these subjects at Calgary. Dr. Dawson is a graduate in arts and science from Dublin University, Ireland. He was formerly principal of the Executive Academy of Banff, Banff, Alberta, and taught in the first class in teaching from the Normal School, Calgary, for the province of Alberta. ## A Surgeon's Story

He Saw the First Part of a Drama and Was an Actor in the Second Part.

By BEVERLY WORTHINGTON.

Copyright, 1920, by American Press Association.

I am a surgeon, and my home is in Florence, Italy. When a young man I studied at a college of physicians and surgeons in my native country, America, but now I practice art, caused to change my profession. Coming here to Florence, I studied art for a while, but soon saw that I did not possess the talent necessary to make an artist. Having failed in love with my own country, I began hating my art as a surgeon.

One night I attended a ball at the Pitti Palace. It was my first appearance among the aristocracy of Florence, and I was greatly interested in watching the people there, few of whom I had ever seen. A young girl with a gentle attendant on each side, and a jeweled bracelet on her wrist, passed me. I stopped to watch the performance of this trio told a story. The man on her left was young, handsome, and very attractive. Her hair was right was a middle-aged and disagreeable-looking as the other was engaged. As they passed me he gave the young girl a kiss on the cheek. The girl appeared to be much troubled. It was plain that her heart was with the man on her left, that she was attracted to him, and that he was both right and that the two men hated each other on her account.

"I decided, then, I wanted to my self, the stress of life is troubled. To be rich, to be prominent, does not render one immune from which is disease. Happy, then, to be able to fly in this young girl, to be interleaved with her own life. Judging from her expression, has some claim upon her. How I should like to know the story."

As I thought the last words, a dream came to me. A few hours a drama would come in the drama being enacted by these three persons and that I would witness upon the stage for all to see. When I awoke in the palace I went directly to my room and to bed. An hour later I was awoken from a sound sleep by a voice. "Get up, get up, it's time to go to school." I sprang out of bed, dressed and opened the door. Two gentlemen in evening dress stepped into the room.

"I am the American surgeon, I believe?" said one.

"At your service," I replied.

"I am deeply grieved to afford a man dangerously wounded," said the other. "You are chosen partly on account of your standing in your profession, but particularly because you are a member of our circle. We will do all we can to help him. I must ask you to permit me to speak to you."

I objected to this, but one of the men put his hand to the hip pocket and drew forth a small pistol with mother-of-pearl mountings, which I knew well. He laid it on the table and in great warmth of the air felt itself to be in a building. Then I mounted steps, and as fast as the bandage was taken off, I saw the Duke of Abruzzi beside a bed on which lay—miraculous—the young man I had seen walking in the streets of the city at the Pitti.

I knew he was dead, without showing any sign of recognition.

"Senor Doctor," he said with a feeble voice, "I have been stabbed on the left side here." uncovering. "It is near the heart."

It was near the heart, but had fortunately just escaped that organ. After an examination I assured the Duke that if he kept perfectly quiet till the wound should heal he would recover, never to feel any pain again.

"What you say is true, but a surgeon should remain with him until a healing should be completed."

"That is all I can say, but I will not be disappointed if I recover."

"The duke and my son joined in the desire to keep the matter a secret and decided to call upon you to attend me."

"There you have the story so far."

The balance of the tale I learned from Count Bardini after he had recovered. Senorina Blanca was connected with the old prince, who was one of the old nobility, and was born in Florence, belonging to some influential family. The furniture, at least some of it, must have been several hundred years old. The old man, however, the woman named lay was emaciated. On the walls were paintings, some of which dated back to the fourteenth and fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. There was no one in the room except the two who had brought me and the old man. I asked the old man what sort of etiquette pattern should be made comfortable for me to sleep on, as it would be best for me to be very near the patient. Then the man who had brought me left, one of them first saying to me:

"Doctor Doctor, we are very glad to find you say that the patient has a good chance for his life. When you leave here be discreet and all will be well with you, but if you talk—well all I have to say is you will speak very long."

I remained a week at the palace, the name of which I did not learn, but during that time not permitted to leave the room of the patient, my meals all being served there. My mail was sent with you, but if you talk—well all I have to say is you will speak very long."

RUSHING WORK ON THE G. T. P.

GRADING OUTFITS BETWEEN IRRIGATED AND CALGARY

FIVE HUNDRED TEAM AND WORK
Between Atlin and the C. P. R. Irrigation Branch Expected That Read Will Enter Calgary Not Much Behind the Canadian Northern.

Calgary—That the entrance of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway into Calgary will not be delayed many months after that of the Canadian Northern is certain. The work on the main line of the branch is being rushed ahead on the Toledos-De-Calgary branch. Several teams of horses are at work on the crossing of the Langdon branch near Irrigated and Calgary, and all the grading has been completed between Battis and Red Deer rivers.

The high-level bridge across the Battle River has been completed and construction trains will be running over it south. In the end section of the bridge over four million feet of lumber were used and the work occupied six months. The only other section of importance now to be built is that across the Red Deer river, south of Aix.

Mr. W. A. Lowry has arrived there, and has taken up his residence in town of Duhamel, about twelve miles south of Camrose, and will start the work on the bridge as soon as equal to any on the Toledos-De-Calgary branch.

The construction of the bridge across the Red Deer river may delay laying between that point and Calgary for a few days, but the work of grading will be completed, and when track laying is resumed it will proceed at the rate of over a mile per day.

Revenue of Canada Still Keeping Up

Ottawa.—The total revenue for the Dominion during June was $78,610,973, or 30 cents above the record set in the same month last year.

The revenue for the quarter totalled $36,334,853, as against $31,563,972 in the same period last year.

On the capital account the June expenditures were $1,056,339, and for the quasi-public account $2,913,284 and $4,014,988, respectively.

The major item of ex revenue for the quarter was cutaway, $8,633,107, compared with $8,617,446 in the corresponding year.

The revenue for the quarter totalled $36,334,853, as against $31,563,972 in the same period last year.

Forces for Army to be Raised Here

St. Catharines.—Major-General Frederick William Benson, who has made a study of the military conditions of the Old Country or Canada where, with certain exceptions, the Canadian government is in the vicinity of Canada, for raising recruits for the British army. The Canadian government has no experience in 1868. He is the third son of the late Hon. J. R. Benson, the Canadian member of parliament for Simcoe, and over to England and became a soldier; he served during the South African war, and was promoted to the rank of captain in 1903 to 1907. He acted as director of transports and recruits.

Interesting Canadian Branch

Ottawa.—The geographical branch of the Canadian government has completed two huge maps of Canada which will be used for exhibition purposes, one for the 300 miles to 600 miles scale, and the other for 100 miles to 1000 miles. One is a mineral map showing the location of all minerals of economic value throughout the country, and the working mines, differentiating those obtained by means of mining, colouring them in red, blue, yellow, green, etc. The railway map shows the railway system in different colors and also the great government roads to Hudson Bay.

Canadians Capture Prize

Blyde Camp—After leading by 12 points over the other entries in the first two days, the 300 yards team for the Kalarope cup, open to teams of eight from the Canadian national team, in the first race of 600 yards, scoring eight points less than the second team, they won the trophy.

The Canadians, however, have won the Colonial prize of eight points, and the trophy of the Empire Cup, Australia, Ceylon, India, Malaya States, Singapore and South Africa, shot.

Cannibals Soldier Conclude Visit

Singapore.—Sir John French, accompanied by Brigadier-General Henderson and Major Watt, left the city on Friday morning. When General French arrived on the wharf he was met by Major-General Sir George Pollock, Doc. Major Howard and Major Halliston, while a guard of honor of Indian men, who had been sent to meet him, and the distinguished general went on board the steamer and a band played the national anthems.

King Alfonso Signs Bill

Madrid.—With the presentation to the cortes of a bill already signed by King Alfonso, barring new religious orders, the Spanish government has agreed to provide for the homesteaders of the Concordia negotiations, Spain has challenged the Vatican to a single arbitration, and the Spanish government has led to the expulsion of all religious organizations.

The bill, which is unprecedented on the Iberian peninsula, which for hundreds of years has been the strong hold of the church.

W. G. Davis to Open Big Fair

Toronto.—The commission in charge of the Dominion exhibition to be held in St. John in the middle of September, has announced that President Roosevelt is to present and open the exhibition. The professor says that he has cured several hopeless cases at the cancer hospital, and that he also experimented successfully with the same remedy in cases of anemia.

TECHNICAL TRAINING

Preliminary Meeting of the Royal Commission on Industrial Training

Ottawa.—A preliminary meeting of the royal commission on industrial training and technical education was held in the minister's room in the department of labour, and the following members were present: Hon. W. L. MacKenzie, King, and the following members of the commission: Vice-Chairman J. W. Houston, chairman; Hon. J. E. Darragh, Mr. Fred. Bryson, Edward Forsythe, James Simpson, and David Forsythe.

Proceedings were opened with a statement by the minister relating to the organization of the commission, and the time when the commission was appointed and concluding the work of the body. King said that the commission had been given the task of conducting its proceedings so as to be the means of "assisting the government in the Dominion." He doubted if ever a commission had been issued by the government which had quite the same opportunity of rendering a definite service to the public.

The members of the commission gathered will be placed at the disposal of the commission, and will receive replies which were favorable from all the provinces. The reply of the commission will be given in a non-committal, but a previous letter from him had been an endorsement of the work of the commission. The commissioners were to go east and west in Canada finding out the needs of the people in the various parts of the country, taking an industrial survey of the Dominion. The members of the commission will be the men of the Dominion.

Proceedings will be kept secret until the year is over.

Mr. D. Cairns discovered a new enterprise in British Columbia, and D. B. Dowling found a new and apparently independent source of coal in Alberta, north from the Saskatchewan to the source of the Macleod river. West of the Macleod river district, which includes Gowanga and Marie Mountain districts, the coal is of good quality, district as shown by recent work appears to be satisfactory. Though not yet fully developed, the coal offers serious disadvantages to economy.

Mr. E. Wilson reports that gold values are almost entirely exhausted in the province, and in many instances contain no gold or little for profit, albeit mining.

Trainmen and C. P. R. Agree
